

The Ploughman.

BOSTON, SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 1870.

MEETING OF TRUSTEES
OF THE NEW ENGLAND AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the New England Agricultural Society was held at the Parker House, Boston, on Monday evening last. Dr. Geo. H. Loring called the meeting to order at half past seven o'clock, after which Col. Needham opened the call and stated the object of the meeting.

Propositions were presented by the New Hampshire State Society, and the citizens of Manchester, to induce the New England Society to hold the Fair of 1870 in New Hampshire. The Secretary, Col. Needham, stated that the Middlesex County Society in Massachusetts was desirous of securing the Fair for this State, and would make a proposition to grant the use of the grounds and buildings at Concord for that purpose; that the Fitchburg Railroad Company would carry passengers in and out from Boston at a very low rate, and would do all in their power to make the Fair a success; that the President of the Middlesex County Society was away from home, and that in his absence the Secretary, Hon. John B. Moore, was at liberty to make full and definite proposals.

After a discussion of the proposition of Concord, Lowell, and Worcester, in connection with Manchester, as definite proposals were made only from New Hampshire, it was voted that if a certain sum of money would be pledged by New Hampshire, the Fair of 1870 should be located in Manchester. The meeting was well attended and quite harmonious and enthusiastic. All the New England States were represented.

On motion of Hon. J. D. W. Perry, of Rhode Island, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved: That the New England Agricultural Society deprecates the practice of betting on the sports and games, and that it is the duty of the members of this Society to use their influence at the exhibitions of this Society, so as to prohibit the practice, and that all members of the Society shall be prohibited, and all pools will not be allowed."

The Superintendent of the Grounds is hereby authorized to expel any person, or to withdraw him from the meetings, upon the rates of admission.

After a revision of premiums and committee fees the Trustees adjourned without day.

MEETING AT HORTICULTURAL HA LL.

IN BURDE OF DUMB ANIMALS

The assemblage in Horticultural Hall on Tuesday evening, elsewhere reported in detail, was a noble testimony to the human sensibilities that rule this entire community in its relations to the dumb creation. All was harmony, resoluteness, energy and healthy sentiment. The addresses by Dr. Loring, Rev. Mr. Alger, Mr. Flint, and Rev. Phillips Brooks, were ardently appeals to an audience that delayed not in its response.

The ninety thousand horses, fifty thousand oxen, and one hundred and fifty thousand cows which Dr. Loring said were contained within the limits of the Commonwealth then and there met with eloquent advocates and effective defenders. The dumb creation found a speaking tongue. They had the active sympathy and affection of that large audience, with just and generous enthusiasm. For all time to come, they and their descendants will have cause to thank the men and women who on Tuesday last came with such humane tendencies to their rescue and open professions of friendship.

Callous brutality is henceforth to be driven forth from the limits of professed civilization. Indurated insensibility is to be banished by public opinion until it yields and breaks. A debased vindictiveness that seeks in sheer covetousness to inflict upon itself unremitting pain, is to be humbled out of its dark habitation. An effort to win the favor of a winning humanity is to supplant all these, and inaugurate a new and better reign. Our patient brute dependents are to be lifted to the heights that they may find a home in Europe.

The head of money, it was stated that but for the advance payment for 1870, from among the members of the Senate, the bill was to be passed.

—Prince's bill was then introduced, and it was voted to postpone the consideration of the bill to the 31st. The Senate had a pretty full debate on the question of the annexation of Charlestown to Boston, which was principally opposed by members from Middlesex County. No action was reached on it up to last Saturday.

The House has passed a bill materially amending the divorce laws, providing that when parties have lived separately for five years, they may obtain a divorce on that ground, without proving desertion. The public park of Boston has occupied a large portion of one session of the House, and gave several of the active members an opportunity to express their opinions on it. The importance of the measure was fully understood.

The House also passed an act regulating the trustee process for collecting debts, and amending the law so that it will be a moderate amount of time to collect debts.

DOST THOU LOVE THE LOVE FOR ME?

BY MAY MACIE

These have left me, O beloved,

Left me lonely and distressed,

They had crossed the mystic river,

Entered into perfect rest;

But while here I still must linger,

Only this I ask of thee,

Spare and tell, if thou canst answer,

Dost thou love me for me?

We have walked by the river together,

Hand in hand, through weal and woe,

I often smile, the checks were glowing,

I left wept, thy tears would flow;

Day and night, my thoughts are turning;

Turning to thy home and thee;

As for my presence, I need not say;

Dost thou love me for me?

Thou hast gained a heavenly mansion,

Where no grief or pain can come,

And no shadow dims the brightness,

Of thy happy spirit home;

Is that wondrous world of beauty,

That thy spirit loves to be free;

Then thou keep thy love for me?

So I trust, though earth's dark shadow

Wrap me yet a little while;

Though there comes no voice or message

Lonely moments to be grieved,

When the golden gates shall open,

Joyful will my meeting be,

And the three years of waiting;

Then keep thy love for me.

So I trust, though earth's dark shadow

Wrap me yet a little while;

Though there comes no voice or message

Lonely moments to be grieved,

When the golden gates shall open,

Joyful will my meeting be,

And the three years of waiting;

Then keep thy love for me.

So I trust, though earth's dark shadow

Wrap me yet a little while;

Though there comes no voice or message

Lonely moments to be grieved,

When the golden gates shall open,

Joyful will my meeting be,

And the three years of waiting;

Then keep thy love for me.

So I trust, though earth's dark shadow

Wrap me yet a little while;

Though there comes no voice or message

Lonely moments to be grieved,

When the golden gates shall open,

Joyful will my meeting be,

And the three years of waiting;

Then keep thy love for me.

So I trust, though earth's dark shadow

Wrap me yet a little while;

Though there comes no voice or message

Lonely moments to be grieved,

When the golden gates shall open,

Joyful will my meeting be,

And the three years of waiting;

Then keep thy love for me.

So I trust, though earth's dark shadow

Wrap me yet a little while;

Though there comes no voice or message

Lonely moments to be grieved,

When the golden gates shall open,

Joyful will my meeting be,

And the three years of waiting;

Then keep thy love for me.
